After Forming Giant Combination. He Would Begin to Spend Money.

SAYS ROOSEVELT WAS WRONG

Magnate Says President Did Country Incalculable Injury in Fighting Railroads,

Denver, March 30 .- If E. H. Harrinan could have his way he would bring all the railroads of America into one giant combination, under one head, and begin immediately the expenditure of $250,000,000 or $300,000,000 in improving the Weaker roads, both physically and financially. In this way, he says, he believes he could do the greatest good for the government, the people of the United States generally, to the shippers individually and finally to the owners of railroad stock.

Mr. Harriman spent two hours in Denver today as the guest of the chamber of commerce, then departed on his eastward fourney.

"If we could, we would throw our cloak over the weaker lines throughthe country and begin immediate-the expenditure of between $250,000,-0 and $300,000,000 to improve them." said Mr. Harriman in an informal talk at the chamber of commerca. "It ought to be done immediately, and I ought to be done immediately, and I think I can qualify as an expect on these matters. This should be done openly and under some sort of government supervision. But we would all be put in prison if we tried it."

Mr. Harriman also declared that his roads have spent in the neighborhood of $350,000,000 since 1992, building and rebuilding in the west and through the

Mr. Plaisted has just returned from trip cast, and when asked in reproduct to the rumored reduction on al, he was not preparet to give a dinite reply. However, in discussing the matter he said that when such reactions had been made in former ars, to encourage the summer storage of coal, the cut of 25 cents per an authorized by the railroads, and metimes the additional 25 cents per a authorized by the mines, making a aggregate of 50 cents reduction on the ton, had never got beyond the caler, and the small consumer, for hose benefit the rate was made, paid as the same price for his coal as a siways did. "For these reasons," intinued Mr. Plaisted, "the storage an was not a success, and chiefly continued Mr. Plaisted, "the storage plan was not a success, and chiefly I think, for the reason that the consumer did not get the benefit of the reduction. I am not prepared just now to state that there will be a reduction; but if there is the railroad company must know beforehand that the consumer will receive the benefit of the deal."
